

Yellow Streak In Judge Hyland, Says Mitchell

Even Dodges Attacks on His Personal Honor, Asserts Mayor

Charges Rival Fears
To Disown Hearst

Declares Tammany Man
Loves Himself More Than Country

Mayor Mitchell, commenting on the fact that Charles F. Murphy or his candidate, Judge Hyland, had not permitted him, the Mayor, to appear at the Tammany Hall rally Friday night, Mayor Mitchell yesterday charged that his opponent had a "yellow streak."

"I offered to go alone into that meeting, packed with Murphy henchmen, without one friend on the platform or in the audience," said the Mayor, "and, in the interest of public decency and of the record of my administration, compel Judge Hyland to face the facts."

"The only response I received was the declaration of the chairman of the meeting (Samuel Untermyer) from the platform, where neither he nor his candidate dared to let me come, that I have a 'yellow streak.'"

"It is not for me to discuss my personal qualifications. Whether or not I have a 'yellow streak' is a matter for the public to decide. But if Mr. Untermyer or Judge Hyland are interested in the question of 'yellow streaks,' let me offer them a few pertinent facts."

Says Hyland Dodges Issues

The Mayor declared that since the very beginning of this campaign Judge Hyland had dodged every issue that he presented. When the Judge was asked to take a stand for or against Mr. Hearst, the Mayor said, he carefully omitted any reference to Mr. Hearst "from his readings," and refused to see reporters.

"Even when his personal honor was impugned by the exposures of his past," said the Mayor, "he did not have the courage to discuss these exposures, but took refuge in silence and hired a lawyer to defend him as best he could."

"In all the history of American politics I know no clearer example of a yellow streak than Judge Hyland has presented in his dealings with Mr. Hearst and disloyalty. Although I have called upon him to disown Mr. Hearst, and although the public press has repeatedly questioned the loyalty of various groups which are supporting Judge Hyland, he has refused to stand up and state his position, because he feared to lose the votes of the disloyal."

"By his political cowardice he has put himself in the position of loving personal advancement more than he loves his country."

"There is not a single disloyal or subversive influence to which Mr. Hearst's candidate has not surrendered in return for votes."

Says Judge Opposes Draft

"For the sake of the wealdings who are afraid to defend their threatened country," he has whispered in secret that he is opposed to the selective draft."

"For the sake of the pacifist newspapers in which Mr. Untermyer is interested," he permitted Mr. Untermyer to notify him of his nomination and to preside at the ratification meeting last night in Tammany Hall."

"For the sake of his support, he has silently subscribed to the doctrine expressed in Mr. Untermyer's 'Warfare' three months after this nation had entered that war, that, legally, the government could compel American youths to become soldiers, but the question was whether the government had a moral and political right to send soldiers to France without asking them whether they wanted to go or not."

Emory R. Buckner, chairman of the Mitchell campaign committee, declared yesterday that Mayor Mitchell's election was now assured. Mr. Buckner has been attending most of the Mitchell campaign meetings, and declared that they were now all very large and enthusiastic.

"Last night there were seventy-five hundred people at the greater city," said Mr. Buckner, "besides one hundred automobile outdoor meetings, which attracted large crowds. Mayor Mitchell spoke at six meetings, all of which were packed to the doors and which were held in the streets. The drive over into the city was on, and Mitchell is gaining every day, and his reelection is assured, because Hyland is losing steadily."

Mayor Mitchell went into the Bronx yesterday, where the most opposition has developed to the Gary system in the schools, and discussed that subject in detail. He and Henry Morganthau spoke at the McKinley Square Casino. The Mayor charged that Judge Hyland, through his friends and Murphy, were the instigators of the recent school riots.

Mitchell Calls Swann
A Protector of the Tammany "Grafters"

Mayor Mitchell last night attacked District Attorney Swann as a protector of Tammany workers in the city employ who had been charged with petty graft. He referred to the cases of inspectors of the License Bureau who several years ago were charged in evidence submitted to Mr. Swann with having extorted bribes, and asserted that the District Attorney had refused to proceed against them because they were found to be affiliated with Tammany.

After charging that the election of Mr. Hyland would "bring back to New York the old days of Tammany grafting," Mayor Mitchell, speaking at Bryant Hall, Forty-second Street and Sixth Avenue, said:

"But we don't have to go back to the Tammany regime to find a politically degraded office. We can find it today in the office of the District Attorney, which is now lending its service to a falsifying political campaign. The story emanating from Mr. Swann that I made a trip to Europe with ex-Senator Reynolds for a jollification party is as mendacious and baseless as the one that I represented a real state firm in a deal with the city."

Mitchell then explained how he had discovered petty grafting among some city employees and had forwarded the evidence to Mr. Swann with no result. The Mayor said that one of the men under charges had tried to employ a pickpocket to steal from persons while they stood in line to obtain licenses.

Before an audience at the Bay Ridge High School for Girls, Fourth Avenue and Seneca Street, Brooklyn, the Mayor declared that the election was of national importance.

"I don't claim that I have behind my campaign a monopoly of American loyalty," he said, "but I do claim that behind the campaign of Murphy's candidate there is disloyalty. The issue is between Americanism at the City Hall and Americanism at the City Hall."

When you go into the booth on Election Day ask yourself whether you prefer a Mayor like Thompson, of Chicago, or whether you want to stand behind the present administration, which has supported the Federal government from the start."

William English Walling, prominent Socialist who resigned from the party because of its opposition to America's entrance in the war, yesterday in a statement branded Morris Hillquit, the Socialist candidate for Mayor, as a traitor to all oppressed races. He also charged Mr. Hillquit with being "pro-German," and working "to give what Kaiser wants—an immediate peace without fighting."

Mr. Walling said:

"Morris Hillquit is a traitor to Internationalism. He has committed treason against the working people of the world. Hillquit is a traitor to the oppressed races. The German Socialists were the first Socialists to vote in 1913, before the war. The German Socialists were the first Socialists to vote in favor of the present war."

Says Hillquit Would Betray

"And now Hillquit proposes to hand over the working classes of the world to the first Socialists of the world. Their agents in the small neutral countries terrorized by Germany and their troops in Russia. Kerevsky calls for a strong Russian army to fight for the democratic nations—Russia, France, Great Britain, Australia, Canada and America. Hillquit and Lenin, the Russian anarchist, stand for immediate peace without fighting. This is what the Kaiser desires."

"Hillquit pretends he is not pro-German. Germany is pro-Hillquit. All parties in Germany, from Scheidemann to the Kaiser and Hindenburg, have shown by their newspapers that they want Hillquit to get a big vote. The labor unions of France, England and America know that this war must continue until Germany is defeated if democracy and unionism are not to be destroyed. They are the backbone of the labor international. He who is traitor and scab to the working class of the democratic nations is a scab to the labor union of the world."

"Is Traitor to the People"

"If there any act of treason left for Hillquit to commit? Yes, one more. He is traitor to the people of the United States, though being a scabed lawyer he seems not to have committed treason against the government."

"The overwhelming majority of the American Congress and the American people are for this war. Hillquit is doing everything in his power against the war—practically waging war against the people of the United States, though he is a scab to the labor union of the world. He is a traitor to the people of the United States, though he is a scab to the labor union of the world. Died in 20 Days

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Yonkers Day Nursery of the Divine Providence, at 76 Locust Hill Avenue, was closed today by order of Charles Warner, of the Westchester County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Its sixteen inmates, most of them under two years of age, were sent to hospitals and to the Children's Society Building, in Manhattan. Its proprietor, Annie Murphy, and her assistant, Bridget O'Flaherty, were arraigned in the Yonkers court and held in $500 bail each on the charge of "failing to provide proper food and medical attendance for their charges."

In twenty days four of the small inmates of the nursery, most of whom are permanent boarders and not kept simply by the day, have died. Learning of this, the Westchester Children's Society decided to act.

Says Conditions Were Intolerable

According to Mr. Warner, conditions in the nursery were found to be intolerable. The building stands in spacious grounds, and was once the home of former Supreme Court Justice Blanchard.

The Children's Society agent says that he found that the place was unheated. There was not even warm water, he asserted, for the baths of the babies, who were washed in cold water. Neither, according to Mr. Warner, was there any indication that the diet of the children was carefully regulated. Apparently, he says, they were fed without formula and on very little.

Of the sixteen children in the nursery, seven were found physically able to be taken to the Children's Society building, in Manhattan. The others were found to be suffering from the effects of malnutrition or from heavy colds. Two were sent to the Homeopathic Hospital, four to St. Joseph's Hospital and three to St. John's.

At St. John's Hospital it was found

Helen Cudahy a Suicide at Sea

Daughter of Milwaukee
Packer Jumps Overboard
On Way to France

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Miss Helen Cudahy, daughter of Patrick Cudahy, the Milwaukee packer, and a niece of the Chicago Cudahys, ended her life by drowning in midocean on October 19, according to cables from Paris to-day.

It is believed that Miss Cudahy's suicide was the result of broodings over the danger of submarine attack. There had been joking about the imminent danger of being sunk in midocean, and this conversation is thought to have preyed on the young woman's mind.

Miss Cudahy sailed as a member of the Red Cross unit organized by Mrs. Dickson, of Milwaukee. The party was on its way to France, and was to proceed immediately to the front. Each member of the unit was to pay her own expenses. Miss Cudahy is said to have been in the best of spirits until the night of October 19.

A friend called at her stateroom to ask her to participate in some festivities. An open portfolio aroused suspicion. Miss Cudahy was gone. This note was found:

"It is all for the best. Keep as much as possible from father and mother. Please notify my brother, Michael."

There was no other word. Inasmuch as the vessel was traveling at a good rate of speed, it was impossible to make a search for the body, and the boat proceeded on its course.

Friends of Miss Cudahy arriving in Paris told the story of her death.

"The crossing was otherwise uneventful," said one of the young women, "but the usual talk in the saloons about the submarine peril, and this talk was accompanied by joking and exaggerated reports of happenings at sea."

"Miss Cudahy had been cheerful and had talked with much enthusiasm of her future work. Later in the evening it was noticed that she did not visit the deck. She took her evening meal in her cabin and kept to herself."

MINEOLA, L. I., Oct. 27.—Captain Robert A. Bartlett, who headed the MacMillan relief expedition and was in command of the ship Roosevelt on both of the Peary expeditions, to-day made his first air voyage. He flew in the Italian Pomilio seaplane, as the guest of Lieutenant Attilio Baldini.

Captain Bartlett motored to the Mineola aviation field with Henry Woodhouse, of the Aero Club; Major C. C. Culver, in charge of the radio division of the United States army service; William Dublier, wireless expert, and Russell Hastings Millward, the explorer.

After his flight the veteran Arctic voyager declared that with a machine such as he had made his air trip in he could accomplish in one hour what it would take six months to do with a ship.

Lutherans Honor Reformation Day

Protestant Churches of Other Denominations to Join in Celebration

Four hundred years ago Martin Luther nailed a parchment containing his ninety-five "theses" of revolt to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, thus starting one of the profound movements in ecclesiastical and world history. To-day hundreds of thousands of Luther's followers will commemorate Reformation Sunday with special services, mass meetings, pacants and choir services.

Locally, not only Lutherans, but members of other Protestant denominations will celebrate the event. The programme here is an extensive one, bringing to a climax the ceremonies which have been in progress for years.

The greatest outside interest will attach to the afternoon reformation service in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, which will place the official seal of approval of clergyman of the Episcopal Church on participation in the celebration. No celebration of a Luther anniversary has ever seen such widespread cooperation by Episcopalians.

Ten Large Mass Meetings

Ten large mass meetings will be held in greater New York and the metropolitan district simultaneously with three such celebrations in London, arranged by the World Evangelical Alliance.

The Hippodrome, in Manhattan, and the Academy of Music, in Brooklyn, will house the largest of the meetings. At the Hippodrome representatives of the churches of the Synical Conference, under whose auspices the gathering is held, will meet. Professor R. B. Bider-mann, of St. Louis, and Professor G. A.
Romer, of Bronxville, will speak, while a choir will be one of the features.

The Central Branch Y. M. C. A., in Brooklyn, and the Twenty-third Street Branch, in Manhattan, Holy Trinity and St. Paul churches will have special events. All Protestant churches in Yonkers will come together for the celebration in the afternoon, while the Westchester mass meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Wartburg, at Mount Vernon. A pageant in five acts, symbolizing the significance of Luther's revolt against the old Church, will be given there.

While to-day has been chosen as the Sunday nearest to date to Luther's historic act, October 31, the actual date, will receive equal prominence in the celebration. On that date there will be a mass meeting at Carnegie Hall national in scope.

Benefit Game for St. Agatha

A benefit game for the Church of St.
Agatha will be played at 2:45 this afternoon at Fifth Street and Ninth Avenue. Boy Riders St. Agatha team will meet a rival composed largely of major and minor league players. Billy Gilbert, former Giant, is manager of the St. Agathas. Jimmy Ring, of the Cincinnati Reds, will pitch against Gilbert's aggregation.
